The Stolen Presents

One sunny evening as the sun was setting, three girls called Lily, Christi and Mary went to the shopping center to buy Christmas presents for children who came to the photo booth to take a photo with marvelous Santa Claus. They worked there for their manager called Dina and said that each of them would have to buy colourful presents by Sunday.

On Sunday, they all met happily at Dina's organised office to wrap the presents before putting them under the Christmas trees. They all decided that it would be £2.00 to take a photo with Santa and that they would start tomorrow.

The next day, all of the presents were gone! They searched and searched for a while but they had no luck. This was bad news for all of them since they had all spent money on them. Then, Dina had some more bad news. She was going to make their shift shorter due to the budget cuts. Everyone was upset because they were already working hard and they did not have another job but they understood it was the right thing to do. The blame was on Mary because she was the last one seen with the presents. Dina had the great idea to put a camera in an elf's eye and leave him in the room to see who would steal more presents that she bought yesterday.

The next morning, the presents were stolen again and Dina really hoped that her plan had worked. She invited everyone over to her house so they could be confronted. They found out that it was Lily since she was jealous of Santa always being the main character!

The End.

Book Reviews and Bonfire Night!

Billionaire Boy by David Walliams

I recommend this book because it is intriguing. My favourite part of the story is when Joe Spud (the main character) goes bankrupt because everyone sued his dad's company – Bumfresh.

Joe Spud went to public school and was bullied but had one friend – Bob – who was poor.

Guy Fawkes

Who is he?

Guy Fawkes was born in April 1570 in York. He was raised as a protestant. After his father's death, his mother remarried to a catholic man and Guy became a Catholic like his new stepfather.

The Gunpowder Plot

The Catholic's were being treated badly because the protestant King did not like what they believed. They all knew the King would be in parliament on November 5th so they thought of blowing the King up with gunpowder. Their plan was called The Gunpowder Plot.

Guy's friend, Francis Tresham, realised that innocent people would be working in parliament. Francis wrote a warning letter to his cousin, Lord Monteagle. Lord Monteagle gave the letter to the King's guards. Guy was arrested and tortured.

Why do we celebrate Bonfire Night?

Bonfire Night is celebrated every year on the 5th November to remember how Guy Fawkes plan failed.

Year 5 London Zoo Trip!

My First Trip to London Zoo!

Today, I will write a recount of my first trip to London Zoo. Firstly, all classes in Year 5 went out of the school gate and were in groups. There were around 10 groups with one adult each. We found two separate coaches and went in.

About an hour later, we were there. The first thing we saw were (the one I found amazing) lions! We met someone who explained to us about their teeth and how dangerous they are. After, we went to the Okapis section. Their legs were like a zebras (we also saw them) and the smell that came from them was familiar. There were three sections in the zoo; blue, orange and pink.

Tigers were the most beautiful animal we saw because the tiger had little cubs and one of them was on a rock, which made my day even better. I can recommend this because it is a fair price for the beautifulness of London Zoo and how big it is. I think this is one of the best places that I have been to since I have come here.

Make sure to have friends next to you or even your family to have the BEST EXPERIENCE EVER!

My First Trip to London Zoo!

My London zoo trip was amazing but the drive there was exhausting.

As soon as we got there, I was so excited. When we started walking towards the giraffe, I was mind blown because I thought the weather was too cold for them. I even saw the golden banned zebras. After a while of walking, we saw African dogs known as hyenas. We started to walk again when I was shocked there were monkeys swinging around it was so cool. After a couple of hours we say tigers and lions, they were fighting. Time flew so fast so we went into a hall and had our lunch. I had a sausage roll and a few snacks. I had my lunch so fast and outside the hall, I saw ostriches and kangaroos. They were so cool.

As soon as everybody finished, we started walking towards the tiny giants where I saw the biggest spiders, ants, snails, jellyfish and much more. The teacher took so many photos of our class. We also saw camels and parrots. We went into the place where I saw adorable little monkey and sleepy sloths. I was waiting for the butterfly paradise after this we were packed and ready to go this moment. Man I did not want to go back I could live there. As soon as I thought about the spiders, I changed my mind so quick. The journey back took 2 hours. My favourite part of the zoo was the rainforest animals and the lions and tigers.
